

Maintenance guide for oiled products

Floors are subject to heavy wear and tear. With little effort at the start, Berg&Berg parquet is easy to maintain and extremely durable.

After installation

Our floors are treated with oxidative hardening oils at the factory. After installation, they still need to be treated with oil again. This makes the surfaces particularly hard-wearing and provides the parquet with effective edge and joint protection. It can be applied both manually and by machine. We recommend initial maintenance by machine.

Maintenance cleaning

Vacuuming is normally sufficient. Damp mopping is used for heavier soiling. Wood floor soap is added to the mopping water. For more protection we recommend oil soap. The parquet becomes more resistant with every wipe.
